Following many years of patient suffering after critical eye surgery, Mrs. John C. Funk, aged 78, died Sunday, June 20 in her home at 17358 69th ave., Tinley Park.

Likes U.S. Fine After Visit To His Native Land

The United States is a mighty fine country to come back to, thinks H. C. Schultz of the H. & S. Feed Co., Tinley Park. Mr. Schultz returned this week from his first visit to his native Germany since he left it 31 years ago.

One of the sad phases of his visit was the knowledge that his brother was one of the many who starved to death in Germany in the chaotic years during and after the war. His father is now seriously ill in a hospital.

Mr. Schultz declares that living costs in Germany are high. He also says there is considerable building in West Berlin but practically none in East Berlin. He was not impressed by the "blessings" of red domination in the eastern zone.

The traveler flew to Europe several weeks ago with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kohler of Tinley Park. Leaving the Kohlers at Amsterdam, Holland he went to West Berlin and Frankfort, visiting his parents, sister and other relatives.

When Mr. Schultz came to the United States 31 years ago he made his home with his uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Franz Rucker at Tinley Park. His first employment was with Henry Vogt.

Harvey Sav. & Loan Pays Record Dividend
At the meeting of the board of directors of Harvey Federal Savings and Loan association held June 10 a regular semi-annual dividend at the rate of two and one half percent per annum was declared. Foss P. Miller, chairman of the board announced the highest in the 43 year record of the association. Being an estimated $107,773.30. This compares with $99,495.50 on December 31, 1953, and with $90,733.63 on June 30, 1953.
Mr. Miller said, "The earnings will be paid to a record number of savings and investment account holders. 12,250 in number, holding a total of 7,300 accounts. This compares with 11,669 in December 31, 1953, holding 7,005 accounts and 11,007 holding 6,650 accounts on June 30, 1953. The total of savings held by the Association on June 30 is estimated to be $8,700,000.00, as compared with $8,938,428.73 on December 31, 1953 and $8,259,992.88 on June 30, 1953. Thus, there is an expected total gain in savings of $1,440,000.00 over the figures of a year ago."
"Net earnings for the six months period ending June 30, 1954 are estimated to be a total of $154,500.00 which, after payment of this dividend, will provide additions to the safety reserves of the Association of an amount over $40,000.00. The declaration of this dividend continues the unbroken record of dividends at least yearly since the Association was founded in March of 1911," said Chairman Miller.

Quick-Scenes

Mr. Florey counted and recounted the sardine-packed car requesting his one year souvenir gifts of vacations and ashtrays; then the driver yawned "Squeeze in one gallon of gas, please."

Parishoners were walking out of St. Mary's church with long white envelopes, peeking quickly to see the contents.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

No Sale!

Right in front of Granny White's beautiful old house on Maple Avenue there's a brand-new sign: "Antiques. Inquire Within."

Now—don't get excited. Granny explained it all the other night—after we settled down in her parlor, me with my temperate beer, Granny with her tea.

I asked her if she was really going in the antique business. "Oh, no," says Granny, "I wouldn't sell anything. I put that sign up so folks would come in and talk—and look around. If they insist on a price, I tell them some outrageous figure! I guess I just like people," she said.

From where I sit Granny can be excused for her little ruse. She may be in her eighties, but her mind is young—and open. She's the kind of person who's made this town so wonderful. Granny not only likes people—but she respects them and their preferences and opinions. Come to think of it, "liking" and "respecting" mean much the same thing, don't they?

HEALTH HORIZONS

When Bigger is Not Better

"It's a boy!" (or girl, as the case may be) — "seven pounds, three ounces." That's the way babies are usually announced. Weight is given even more importance than the child's name. And then, as the months go by, the proud parents boast of each new pound gained, and enjoy hearing visitors exclaim "My, how he has grown!"

A Possible Health Problem

Everyone loves a fat, cuddly baby. Everyone, that is, except the pediatricians who are concerned with infant health. Many of these specialists believe that parents often tend to over-feed their babies in their mistaken belief that a fat baby is necessarily a healthy baby. This has worried some doctors so seriously that it was discussed at a recent Conference on Fat Metabolism held at the Johns Hopkins Hospital under the sponsorship of M & R Laboratories, manufacturer of infant foods.

Reasons for Faster Weight Gain

Children actually gain weight much faster today than they used to. Dr. Harry A. Gordon, Associate Professor of Pediatrics at Johns Hopkins Medical School stated at the Conference. In six months, many infants weigh three times as much as when they were born. The rule used to be that a baby should take a year to triple its weight. Of course, some infants appear to be naturally heavy eaters, but there are other reasons for this increased growth rate. Many mothers today tend to feed the baby whenever he expresses hunger — or, rather, whenever she thinks he is expressing hunger. And then there is the present-day tendency to start infants on solid foods at too early an age.

Grow Faster, Learn Slower?

"Park-bench pediatricians"—Dr. Gordon's term for non-medical advisers on baby care — often solemnly pronounce that it's a sign of intelligence if a baby can take in large amounts of food. Possibly this notion comes from the idea that if a baby can eat solid, "adult" foods at an early age, he must be maturing rapidly. In actual fact, physicians have found that a fat baby will be slower than other infants in learning to crawl, walk and sit. This has led some pediatricians to be wary of too rapid weight gain.

"Bigger is not better," is Dr. Gordon's conclusion. Being overweight is no health asset for a child or adult. A fat baby may be cute, but habits of overeating developed in infancy are apt to carry over into later life. Then, excess weight is no longer "cute," but apt to be a physical burden and social handicap.

Home Costs

Of all the homes built in the Chicago area in the first five months of 1954, the most expensive, on the average, are in Park Ridge, figures released by the Bell Savings and Loan Assn. disclosed.

With 34 homes built in Park Ridge at a value of $5,308,912, the average cost was $22,688. Figures for other area leaders, with the numbers representing homes built, total value, and average cost, are: Chicago, 3,423, $37,126,856; $10,846, Skokie, 654, $9,970,531; $15,245, Gary, 874, $7,450,700; $8,525, Waukegan, 858, $6,614,808; $7,710, Park Ridge, Arlington Heights, 341, $5,229,100; $15,335, Morton Grove, 309 homes; $4,112,079; average cost $13,308.

You'll get there about as fast if you stay in your own lane and drive with the traffic pattern.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
EDWARD J. BARRETT
Secretary of State

School's out and danger is up, Mr. Motorist.

Nobody wants to kill a child, but it will take a great deal of extra alertness and caution to prevent doing just that during the next two or three months.

Children's actions are always unpredictable. And when they are playing ball or a game of tag, their entire attention is concentrated on that activity. Catching a fly ball or avoiding being tagged is, at the moment, the most important thing in the world to them. They aren't thinking about cars or other dangers.

You will have to think for them. Never take a chance with children. Make sure your car is completely under control when there are children near. Be ready to stop with practically no warning. You may save the life of one of them, and save yourself many anguished hours.

A copy of the booklet, "Rules of the Road," containing many traffic safety suggestions, will be sent to you free upon request. Write to EDWARD J. BARRETT, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Emergency Pastures Keep Summer Milk Output High

Cow-filling pastures yield more pounds of milk per acre.

FEED insurance to keep milk production high when summer drought burns out bluegrass growth, can be provided by well fertilized emergency pastures such as Sudan grass or oats and rape, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

If these emergency and supplemental pastures are to pay off in fatter milk checks, then you need to get high yields per acre. And for those high yields you need to have high soil fertility.

High yielding emergency pasture can save you money by eliminating the cost of feeding more grain. It can cut down production expenses and help increase your net returns.

Whether you plant Sudan or oats and rape, the crop needs not only a balance of fertility, but ample amounts of fertilizer as well. Providing both will help you get cow-filling high yields. Agronomists at Midwestern agricultural colleges recommend adding a fertilizer containing well-balanced amounts of nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

Seedings can be made up to the middle of June.

The agronomists point out that Sudan grass is particularly drought-resistant. It thrives in the hottest weather when the plants have plenty of nutrients to feed on. The seed can be broadcast or drilled in at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds per acre.

The agronomists advise keeping the stock off Sudan pasture until growth is 18 or more inches high and has taken on a dark green color. That is a precaution against prussic acid poisoning.

It is reported that on average soils Sudan grass will carry two fullgrown cows per acre for two or three months. The crop lends itself well to rotational grazing. Surplus pasture can be put in to the silo for reserve feed when shortages of roughage occur, the committee says.

Tax Rates

This year for the first time County tax rates on 1,200,000 parcels of real estate are going to be computed by electronic business machines.

Cook County Clerk Richard J. Daley said Friday that the machines will do work that has been done by hand since 1872. Daley pointed out that the new system will make it easier for the county to meet tax deadlines. Tax rates will be computed at least 30 days ahead of present schedules, he said. And the use of machines will eliminate the possibility of error always present when millions of figures are processed manually.

Daley pointed out also that there will be an ultimate saving to taxpayers, since the use of machines will enable the clerk's office to effect a reduction in personnel.

Daley said that the decision to break with the archaic system and use business machines was made after a two year test which has shown the new system to be practicable and economical.

Christian Science Churches
The vital importance of understanding the inspired Word of the Bible spiritually will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.
The Lesson Sermon entitled "Christian Science" includes the following selection from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy:
"The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for only by this understanding can truth be gained. It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith" 547:23-25, 31-32.
From the King James Version of the Bible the following passages will also be read:
"For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven. O how love I thy law! It is my meditation all the day. Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever; for they are the rejoicing of my heart. Psalms 119:89, 97, 111.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah: "Awake, awake; put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city. 52:1.

ELECTION AMENDMENTS
Voters of Will County will receive within the next few months a booklet, provided by the state, outlining the three proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution to be voted on in November.

County Clerk Joseph Hartley reported he had received a shipment of booklets from Charles F. Carpenter, Secretary of State. The booklets contain 12 pages and enough of them were printed for every voter in Illinois. Included in the booklets are the present forms of the Constitution, proposed amendments to the Constitution, explanation of the proposed amendments, arguments in favor of the amendments and the form of the Blue Ballot.

The three amendments are the "Legislative Apportionment Amendment," the State Treasurer Amendment and the Illinois and Michigan Canal Amendment. The second amendment mentioned would lengthen the term of treasurer from two to four years. The third would eliminate the need for voter approval of the sale or lease of the Illinois and Michigan canals.

The one stirring up the most interest is the reapportionment amendment.

The obstacle which advocates of the amendment will try to overcome is the erroneous feeling of some downstaters that it would throw the balance of political power to Cook county. Actually, 65 labor, business, farm and civic organizations have endorsed the amendment because it does constitute a compromise between downstate, the city of Chicago and the country towns in Cook County.

As the Secretary of State's pamphlet indicates, "The Constitution now requires legislative districts to be based solely on population. This has proved unworkable ever since the 1910 census because a valid redistricting would have given the single county of Cook a majority in both houses of the General Assembly.

The proposed amendment offers a solution. Representation in the House of Representatives is to be based on population, and as long as Cook County has a majority of the population, it will have a majority of the seats in the House. Representation in the Senate, on the other hand, is to be based on area in such a manner that the remaining 101 counties are guaranteed a majority in the Senate.

"This amendment follows the system which the founding fathers wrote into the national constitution and which has proved so successful in the case of Congress. There the House of Representatives is based on population representation and the Senate is based on a form of area representation, similar in principle to what is proposed for Illinois.

"Illinois badly needs a legislative redistricting. The present districts stand as they were created half a century ago. As a result, serious inequalities of population have developed, not only as between Cook county and downstate, but even within these major areas of the State. The apportionment tends to assure the people of a constitutional districting because if the General Assembly fails to act, a commission is provided; and if the commission fails to act, legislators will be elected at large."

The Me-Firsters - - this is the selfish competitive character who must be first away from the traffic light, can't stand to have anyone pass him, and risks the life of anyone who gets in his way. Are you a heel at the wheel?

Girls Softball Notes

BY RUTH

The Frankfort Girls Softball team traveled to Beecher June 16 for their second league game. This activity took place under the lights at Firemen's park. Frankfort won in what turned out to be a nip and tuck ball game.

For Beecher it was Kurth pitching and Fischer catching. For Frankfort it was Arleen Flesher on the mound and Pat Boleman catching. Carole Peterson took over the receiving in the fourth inning and Pat went to left field.

Frankfort scored three runs in the first inning. The first four batters, Carole Peterson, Marilyn Boleman, Lorraine Redman and Irene Benck all got good solid hits and all but Irene scored giving Frankfort a three run margin. The girls were then held scoreless until the fifth inning.

Beecher's second baseman, Buchmeier, scored their first tally in the third when she started off the inning with a hit on an error and made it around the circuit on a stolen base and infield outs. A three run rally in the fourth gave the host a one run lead.

Carole Peterson was the first batter in the fifth and she led off with a grand slam homer to tie the score at four all. The injury suffered in this activity was slight. One of the benchwarmers jumped up very fast as Carole started around the bases and suffered a leg cramp. Next, Lorraine Redman, Inez Reiter and Pat Boleman all singled with Lorraine scoring and that of course put Frankfort ahead one run.

Beecher came back in their half with one run scored by Schuetz to tie the score once more.

Frankfort got another tally in the sixth, Arleen scoring on a passed ball, while Beecher got four.

The seventh inning spelled the victory when the Frankfort girls netted eight runs in a big rally. Several errors, a walk and hits by Barbara Muehler, Pat and Marilyn Boleman, Lorraine Redman, a double by Carole Peterson and a triple for Irene Benck were the ruination of Beecher.

The Beecher girls fought back in their half of the seventh and scored three runs before an out was made, but then it was one, two, three down and Frankfort took the victory 14 to 12.

On Friday night, the girls went to Matteson for a twilight game. This time the story was different with Frankfort being trimmed by these Matteson girls 14 to 4.

The battery for Frankfort was Arleen Flesher pitching and Irene Benck catching, while the Matteson combination was calm and cool; but fast throwing Connie Becker on the mound with Edna Mullins behind the plate.

Lois Steinbach doubled and scored on Irene Benck's single to give Frankfort one run in the first inning. In the fourth, Joan Lentz singled, took second on Irene's hit and scored on Lorraine Redman's one base blow. In the fourth inning, Pat Boleman and Arleen Flesher started off with singles and scored on the next two infield outs and that was all that crossed home plate for Frankfort.

Matteson scored in every inning with a high of four in the fourth. Some mentionables were V. Treynary's two doubles and Connie Becker's home run. Frankfort's downfall came from fielding errors and Matteson's very clever scheme of base stealing.

That ends my notes for another week, but don't forget the following game coming up:

Tonight, Thursday, June 24 at Wilmington, under lights; Wednesday, June 30, Tinley Park, here, twilight game; Wednesday, July 7 at Steger, twilight game; Monday, July 12 at Rich (Sauk Trail and Cicero), twilight game, and Tuesday, July 20, Matteson, here, twilight game.

Tinley Pony League Defeats Frankfort

The T.P. Pony League opened the season at home Sat. June 12 and defeated Frankfort by a score of 7 to 1. Hartwig pitched for Tinley and collected fourteen strikeouts while giving up three singles, none of which figured in Frankfort's lone tally, which came in the first inning. Smith the lead-off man, walked, stole second base and scored on infield putouts. Hartwig's batting was very timely and his three hits, two triples and a single all figured in Tinley's scoring.

The Ponies traveled to Beecher Tuesday, June 15 and suffered a 5 to 3 defeat. Hug pitched and collected twelve strike outs, while giving up four hits. Nine errors including three wild pitches added up to Tinley's downfall. Beecher jumped out with a three run lead in the fourth inning on two hits and five errors. Kurth, the Beecher pitcher kept Tinley's batters handcuffed until the fifth inning. Resounding triples by Egert and Tindall, a base on balls to Teddy Siemsen, and a sharp double by Miller knotted the score and Beecher brought in Casti to put out the fire. Beecher came back for two more runs in their half of the fifth inning and that ended the scoring.

All in the Game

Out on the course, for a game of golf, There was Dick, Harvey, Art, Don and Myself, Art's on the T, he likes to shoot first, So be it, we let him so his feelings aren't hurt.

He got off a drive not far, but straight, And then looked at us and said, "I swung too late." So then Dick jumped up and teed up his ball And insisted he could shoot further than all.

It's a beauty, a dandy, a high one no doubt, But it's missing the fairway 40 yrd's out, Harvey got us and said, "I'll shoot 3rd." And said, "watch, this one will take off like a bird."

A bird indeed, flying south, But the green was due east, so he didn't shout. All this while Don was practicing drives' So I hollered at him to beat these guys.

He said to us there'll be no talking, So we clamped up, so there'd be no squaking. After the swing he started scratching his hair, What a complete surprise, the ball was still here.

So now I thought, well it's all up to me I'll show these guys how to shoot off a T. Just one look, that's all that I took, And I swung just like it said in the book.

I thought to myself this one's out of sight, Yes Sir, in the bushes, 40 ft to the right So the game went on thru the hills and vals, Every 10 minutes we're looking for balls'

Always we aim strait for the hole, But seldom the ball head's for our goal. The rest of the game is just like our drives, From brassy to spoon down to 2, 4 and 5.

We aim for the green, it's right over there, But the ball never seems to go up in the air. I'm thinking now of those poor saps That shoot 18 for two and a half.

For the same price we get 40, more strokes, For the same game they're playing for. But one of these days, you wait and see, We'll all learn how to shoot off a T.

It just takes practice, that's what they say But it better come soon 'fore we are turning gray.

of the season with the bases loaded in the fourth inning. Hartwig had two singles and Hug contributed a single and a double, all of which figured in the scoring.

Manhattan's only score was a home run by Woodward in the fifth inning.

Are you a heel at the wheel?

Tipping Tractors Are Killers

A search for a lost shovel ended in death recently for a northern Illinois farmer whose tractor tipped into a drainage ditch and crushed him.

This is only the beginning of a long procession of such accidents. Judging from 1953 figures, says Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois Agricultural engineer. Thirteen Illinois farmers died last year when their tractors tipped over, and another 72 were injured. That's an average of nearly one tractor-tipping accident per county.

Keeping away from ditches, cutting your speed before making a turn and keeping brake pedals locked together when in road gear will help to keep you from becoming a "statistic." And keep rear wheel spacing as wide as possible, especially when working on steep slopes.

Keeping your car in gear helps reduce speed and produces maximum control throughout a skid.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Souvenir collecting is probably as old as travel itself. For centuries, explorers and tourists have delighted in bringing back mementos from far places—some of them valuable, some at least useful, but many destined for the attic and eventually the trash can.

A good rule to follow in choosing souvenirs is to buy articles that are native to each vacation area — Indian jewelry in the Southwest, homespun fabric in the Smokey Mountains, tooled leather in Texas, woodenware in New England, ceramics in Ohio and California.

Not all souvenir collecting costs money. Some of the best things—such as interesting driftwood, decorative grasses, and countless other mementos are furnished free by Mother Nature. If you find interesting recipes that are typical of the part of the country you're visiting, jot them down and take them home. Some regional dishes call for ingredients that can only be obtained locally. So much the better. Buy the ingredients on your trip, and after you get home you can entertain dinner guests with truly distinctive dishes.

Many gardeners use their trips to collect plants indigenous to their vacation regions. Some may be found growing wild. Others can be bought inexpensively at nurseries. Thus the traveler not only adds to his garden, but also enjoys a perennial souvenir to remind him of his trip in succeeding years.

Here's a suggestion for replacing some of the cash income from acres diverted by crop control. Diversify your operation with crops that you can handle with your own Model 68 ALL-CROP Harvester. You have a wide variety of grains, seeds, sorghums or soybeans from which to choose. The ALL-CROP Harvester can handle almost any of them.

For 19 years the ALL-CROP Harvester has helped thousands of farmers harvest more than 100 crops at lower cost. Now Allis-Chalmers offers you the same high-quality ability with larger capacity in the Model 66.

For your harvest assurance this year... plus cash income in the seasons ahead, choose ALL-CROP Harvester. We will be happy to demonstrate one for you.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Small business knowing corrosive effects of heavy taxation, is interested in reduction of government expenses. But while testimony of the General Accounting Office before a Congressional Committee indicates substantial wastage of taxes in the army due to lack of business understanding, further GAO testimony also indicates lack of business management in the State Department may not only be wasting tax money, but also creating a lack of respect for U. S. abroad.

State Department which once controlled a modest budget now absorbs substantial tax money. Last year State Department spent more than a quarter billion dollars, roughly $30 million more than Treasury Dept. spent operating far flung Coast Guard.

But State Department handling of funds could be partial reason why Europeans resist U. S. plans. General Accounting Office reports in 1949 State Department had one of its young men buy the Baron Rothschild mansion in France for U. S. Embassy.

The fact the then Ambassador did not want to live in the place did not deter Washington thinkers.

For $1,900,000 the Baron agreed to sell mansion to State Dept.

The mansion had carved oak wall panelling, marble bannisters, tapestries, other items of great value, GAO reports.

But young State Dept. man handling deal utterly neglected to get sale terms in writing.

© National Federation of Independent Business

C.W. Harder

But before deed was issued to U. S. the tapestries, the oak panelling, marble bannisters, other attachments were removed.

State Department officials in France inquiring at the time were told they were being removed for cleaning. Told that was not a U. S. custom, the Frenchmen apparently shrugged shoulders and said something like, "But messieurs, this is custom in La Belle France."

Before U. S. obtained possession mansion was so gutted it was uninhabitable, GAO says.

State Department official who made real estate deal with Baron Rothschild of famous international banking house without reducing terms of sale to writing, is still on job.

So almost $2 million American tax dollars were spent on a real estate deal in France in a manner that any American real estate broker could not use on the sale of a woodshed without risking license loss.

This could be a reason why French have not ratified European Defense plan. Perhaps the Rothschilds have entertained French officials on how they sold a mansion to the Americans.

This could have set French official brains to thinking along these lines: "If those crazy Americans don't know how to handle a $2 million real estate deal, are they precisely the people to trust with the lives and fortunes of 40 million Frenchmen."

Whether one agrees or not with the policies and philosophies currently propounded in Washington one fact is clear.

In the family, on the farm, in business, and in nations, there is no substitute for sound business management for domestic tranquility, for prestige abroad.

THE THREE-PART EAR

By Science Features

Most people think the ear is simply that shell-like thing seen on both sides of the head. But actually it's a complicated mechanism that, like an iceberg, has more to it than meets the eye. Behind what you see are two internal parts essential to hearing: the middle ear and the inner ear.

The external or visible ear collects sound waves and directs them through a canal to the ear drum. These waves vibrate against the drum and the impulses are picked up on the other side by the middle ear. The vibrations are then transmitted through the inner ear to the brain.

In addition to its role in hearing, the inner ear also acts as the organ of balance that is responsible for any feeling of dizziness or nausea when the body undergoes rapid, unusual movements. The delicate mechanisms of the three-part ear are very sensitive to infection and, since the ear is open from the outside, many diseases can enter. For example, one common ear ailment is caused by an infection of the mastoids. These cells in the middle ear become inflamed and fill up with a fluid that turns into pus, producing pain and fever and hampering hearing. Remarkable control of this infection has been obtained through the use of antibiotics. Three British physicians found tetracycline highly effective when applied to 41 cases of mastoiditis. The drug dried up the fluid and cleared the infection in 83% of the patients. Prior to the use of antibiotics, operations were necessary to remove the infected mastoid cells and to drain the pus.

BABSON DISCUSSES SHOPPING CENTERS

A revolution is going on in merchandising. This will affect shopkeepers in many ways. The change will be due to (1) The introduction of "self-service"; (2) the longestation of automobile park; and (3) the trend toward big stores—Super Markets, Super Drug Stores, Super Variety Stores and Shopping Centers.

If I had a store, I certainly would immediately buy some adjoining property to enable my customers to park their cars safely and easily, or else I would move to a location near a municipal parking lot. As many merchants will feel likewise before long, every community will witness a large turnover of business property during the next few years. Some of this will sell at higher prices, while other business property will sell at lower prices, according to parking facilities.

Cities which now do not buy or condemn property needed for parking are making a great mistake. The longer they wait, the more the needed property will cost. Municipal governments which are delaying this work because some influential family or obstinate church objects are handicapping most of the merchants and are driving trade away. Owners of all business real estate will suffer. Yet, these merchants are the lifeblood of every city.

The new shopping centers with big central parking lots, which are being written up with great glee, may be only a stopgap. I hear that one of the largest centers near Boston is already in financial difficulty. They are subject to accidents while customers get in or out of them from the main thoroughfare, so that some women are already becoming afraid of using them. Municipal parking lots in the downtown centers of our communities are not subject to this danger, as speed in these downtown areas does not exceed 25 miles per hour, while cars pass the exits of the shopping centers at 70 miles per hour.

Furthermore, parking lots can become too big. Too many fenders are jammed every day. Power steering is almost necessary for a woman to enjoy a large parking lot. This is especially true as cars are being built longer and fancier every year. Yet 85% of the cars in the parking lots of the big shopping centers are being driven by women.

In place of new shopping centers as now laid out, we will find that four or more large stores—such as an A&P Grocery, a Penney Clothing Store, a Super Drug Store, and a Woolworth, McCrory, or McLellan Variety Store will unite to buy some acreage on both sides of a main highway, located midway between two cities which could be about five to eight miles apart. This land will extend about 2,000 feet along said main highway, giving angle parking for from 250 to 500 cars.

This angle parking, however, will not be on highway land. The buildings will be 50 feet back of the street line, allowing parking and safe backing out on private property. The buildings will be long and narrow. Instead of being 200 feet square, as at present, they will have the same area, but will be only 40 feet deep and 1,000 feet along the street, thus allowing for angle parking of over 500 cars. There will also be extra land for Saturday parking.

I forecast that the two sides of the main highway will be connected by a two-way tunnel or overpass, enabling cars and foot passengers to cross this main highway easily and quickly without accident. Thus, a customer leaving home to travel west on this main highway, to these four super stores would leave the highway at the right and park anglewise directly in front of any super store under a protective canopy.

The customer would then do her shopping and go out by the checking cash register, walking under the canopy directly to her car. She would then back her car out with no fear of being hit by any car traveling on the main highway, would drive to the tunnel and cross under said main highway. It she wishes to stop at one of the super stores on the other side of the street she could do so, or she could reverse the above process.

Would you like an accurate rain gauge that takes only a few minutes to make? Scripture: II Kings 17. Devotional Reading: Psalm 85:1-7.

Here Lies Israel

Lesson for June 27, 1954

IN THE graveyard of nations there lie many whose very names are strange to us. But among all the unfamiliar names—Phus, Lydia, Elam and many another—there is one we all know: Israel. It was a going nation for about 200 years. Seen through the eyes of other nations it was "small potatoes" as we know from inscriptions which have been dug up in recent years by the archaeologists' spades; it covered no more of the earth's surface than New Jersey does. But in its Dr. Foreman own eyes it was important; what nation is not? When Israel was just a little older than the United States is now, it crashed to nothing, and since that time has been only an unfragrant memory, a dead nation. The writer of II Kings 17 wrote its obituary.

The Nation Forgot God

What killed Israel? The nation did not die of old age, for 200 years is not a very long time for a nation to exist and prosper. Something killed that country. It might be said that it committed suicide—but what was the name of the poison which it swallowed? In one word, it was sin. But that does not tell us much. It is like giving "disease" on a death certificate as the cause of death. What disease? What sins? Looking over the record as II Kings 17 sums it up, we can see that serious sin which was the root of most others: forgetting God. The nation forgot what God had done for them in times past; they forgot that he is a God of righteousness, they supposed he did not specially care what they did so long as their tithes were paid up and they had a good record of attendance at public worship. They had reminders of "God" all over the place, but these were idols, images of beasts. They used the word "God" without realizing either the goodness, the greatness or the holiness of the only true God.

Can God Be Despised?

High-lighted in the sad obituary of a dead-and-gone nation is the fact that as a nation they despised the law of God. How is it possible to despise the Almighty? Nations and individuals show their real contempt for God by paying no attention to what he has said. Millions of people in America today act just as if the Ten Commandments (for example) were only a set of by-laws for fanatical churchmen, or—worse still—as if they were an out-dated set of rules from a primitive civilization. To judge from what you may read in any newspaper, would the Man from Mars suppose that Americans, as a people, are living by any Law of Love? If all the church members in our country were practicing Christians, would this country be what it is? A nation's sins both by the actual sins of the sinful and by the consent of those who know better but do nothing about it. Now you can despise God and his laws for a while; but his laws are not arbitrary, they are not like basketball rules that can be changed every season. The roads that lead away from God and his laws may be wide, but they are short. They come to a very dead end. It is possible to despise God; but it is not safe.

Paradox and Parallel

A nation can be simply peppered with religion and yet lose the salt of morality. In ancient Israel the name of God was everywhere; religious observances were going on "under every green tree" as the prophets said. But the more religion they had, the less morality. Israel died of a kind of moral dry-rot, in the midst of shrines without number. Dr. H. P. Van Dusen has recently made thinking Christians sit up and take startled notice with these two sets of facts. On the one hand, since World War II church membership has increased till today it is at an all-time high. Church attendance is also at an all-time high. Religious reading is popular. Young people are interested in religion more than for years past. But on the other hand, alcoholism has increased enormously; divorce has shot up; juvenile delinquency has multiplied; drug addiction has increased; sexual morality is sinking to a lower level. Can it be that in America as in Israel we fail to gear our religion into our behavior? Can it be that perhaps for all our "religion" we really have made an idol of the Dollar?
